

Sharon Witt

Sharon is a dynamic educator, author and speaker and has worked with thousands of young people across Australia. She has been a secondary teacher for over eighteen years and holds her Masters Degree in education. She has spent many years developing innovative curriculum that engages and impacts the lives of the adolescents she works with along with holding leadership positions in education. Sharon has authored 6 books for young people including the best selling Teen Talk Series, which is being launched in the overseas market in 2011.

She is also the author of Surviving High School which has recently been adapted into a curriculum resource program, currently being adopted in schools across Australia

Sharon is a gifted and energetic communicator and regularly runs workshops and parent seminars in schools and youth events across Australia. Her specific interests are in the area of Girl's education and preparing children for High School. She regularly comments in the print media and appears regularly on national television on Channel 9's Mornings with Kerri-Anne.

Sharon lives in Melbourne, Australia with her husband Andrew and incredibly awesome children Josh and Emily.

Seminar & Workshop Topics:

Parent Seminars:

- Preparing your child for High School
- Guarding Our Girls
- Teen Talk – Parent Talk
- Lost in Cyberspace

Sharon Witt

Sharon is a dynamic educator, author and speaker and has worked with thousands of young people across Australia. She has been a secondary teacher for over eighteen years and holds her Masters Degree in education. She has spent many years developing innovative curriculum that engages and impacts the lives of the adolescents she works with along with holding leadership positions in education. Sharon has authored 6 books for young people including the best selling Teen Talk Series, which is being launched in the overseas market in 2011.

She is also the author of Surviving High School which has recently been adapted into a curriculum resource program, currently being adopted in schools across Australia

Sharon is a gifted and energetic communicator and regularly runs workshops and parent seminars in schools and youth events across Australia. Her specific interests are in the area of Girl's education and preparing children for High School. She regularly comments in the print media and appears regularly on national television on Channel 9's Mornings with Kerri-Anne.

Sharon lives in Melbourne, Australia with her husband Andrew and incredibly awesome children Josh and Emily.

Seminar & Workshop Topics:

Parent Seminars:

- Preparing your child for High School
- Guarding Our Girls
- Teen Talk - Parent Talk
- Lost in Cyberspace